Putting Rollers Under Republicans.

A bill that is calculated to put the rollers under the few remaining Republicans about the City Hall in Louisville, was introduced in the Senate Tuesday by Senator Mark Ryan.

The measure provides for the abolishment of the present City Attorney's office in Louisville and the creation in lieu thereof of the office of Corporation Counsel, with two assistants, the duties to be identical with those now performed by City Attorney Clayton Quinn and Joseph S. Lawton.

The salaries are to be the same $5,000 for the Second Assistant, The appointment is lodged in the hands of the Mayor, the appointees to hold office at his pleasure. An emergency clause is attached and the measure will become effective on its enactment.

MR. CANTRILL

Rises in His Seat in Congress to Defend Kentucky From Libelous Charges-Defends Tobacco Orcanizations-Offers Amendment to Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

In the House, at Washington, Monday, Representative Cantrill, of the Seventh Kentucky district, rose to a question of personal privilege to reply to an article in Sunday's Washington Times severely arraigning the American Society of Equity and the Burley Tobacco Society. Mr. Cantrill also introduced a bill to amend the Sherman anti-trust act so as to exempt from the operations of the law associations of farmers and live stock producers and laboring men who seek to protect themselves by organizations. The bill conforms to the act of the Ken-tucky Legislature of 1908, known as the pooling act.

The article in the Washington Times of Sunday purports to give a thorough exposition of the tobacco societies in Kentucky, and asserts that even now a state of war exists. It viciously attacks the Burley Tobacco Soclety and the Court of Appeals.

The article also quotes certain statistics, relative to the price of tobacco, used by Mr. Cantrill in his speeches in Kentucky.

"These figures are declared to be false, but every tobacco grower in Kentucky knows," says Mr. Cantrill, "that they are accurate," and the gross misrepresentation of his speeches, Mr. Cantrill says "forces him to arise to a Cantrill says, "forces him to arise to a question of the highest privilege." Mr. Cantrill Sunday night made the follow-cantrill Sunday night made the following statement:

"It is hard to understand the motive which prompts the scurrilous and libelous article appearing in the Sunday edition of the Washington Times relative to the tobocco pool and Society of Equity and the Burley Tobacco Society in Kentucky unless it be a part of a great scheme to break down all organizations of farmers everywhere in this country. of farmers everywhere in this country and prevent them from securing a decent price from their products. In a recent interview I stated that the farmers were not asking any more for their prodects than a fair price.

"The Sherman Anti-Trust law has been on the statute books for some twenty years, but it was a dead letter antil the farmers began to organize. There seems now a well directed plan to crush the farmer by prosecution under this act. Corporate interests have long oppressed the farmers of this country, but in recent years the farmer has been thinking for himself and deriving for himself the rights exercised by all other lines of business—the right corrections and protect his interest. to organize and protect his interests.

"If the farmer is to be crushed by operation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law then I favor its repeal or amend-ment and to place the amendment and to place the question squarely before the American people, I will intro-duce in the House the following bill so that farmers of this great nation can tell by watching future events which political parties and which mem-bers of Congress are their friends."

Mr. Cantrill's bill amending the Sherman Anti Trust act is as follows: "An act to amend an act entitled an act to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies, approved July 2, 1890, and being Chapter 647, Vol. 26, of the United States Statutes at Large.

EIGHTY BURIALS

In Paris Cemetery During 1909-Nineteen Die of General Debility -Marked Improvement in Cemetery Grounds-Notes from Superintendent Smith's Report.

Superintendent William Smith of the Paris Cemetery Company has filed his report for the year 1909 with President John T. Hinton.

Mr. Smith recommends that the matter of requiring burial permits to be is-sued should be taken up by the proper authorities, as such documents will fa-cilitate the keeping of correct data regarding each person interred.

The total number of persons interred during the year 1909 aggregated 80, their deaths resulting from the following causes: Heart trouble 8, rheumatism 2, accidentally shot 1, typhoid fever 4, consumption 7, pneumonia 10, paralysis 7, burns 2, stomach trouble 1, Bright's disease 1, brain fever 2, drowned 1, cancer 1, diphtheria 2, appendicitis 1, dropsy 1, congestion the liver 2, unknown 5, general debility 19.

Of the latter 19, their ages ranged from 60 to 90 years.

Many improvements have been made, according to Superintendent Smith's report, in the filling in of depressions, rading, and keeping in repair fences given the grounds in keeping the lawns mowed and watered, resulting in a marked appreciation by the owners of lcts, who, throughout the spring, summer and fall, remembered their dead by keeping foliage plants and blooming flowers on their graves.

The failure to grade the tobacco up to this no case apply to any contract or combination in any form the purpose of chief among them being the lateness which is a reasonable compensation for rangement of the Society's affairs insident to the record of the background

It was stated Tuesday at the ducers of agricultural products or live society's headquarters that the plan is stock a reasonable price therefor, but to have samples from all the counties such contracts and combinations are expressly exempted and excepted from the provisions of this act."

With reference to the article in the Washington Times Sunday, Gov. Willson said:

(My belief in the for twenty years of the society has not completed and excepted from the provisions of this act."

Willson said: "My belief is that for twenty years arrangements for any building in Lexwe have not had a year in which there have been so few disturbances in Kendon ington for this purpose. It is expected, however, that negotiations will be opened soon for a suitable building to be used as a sample house, and as soon as this is done orders will be issued to the various county boards of control to get the types ready to be shipped to of Wshington, was here Tuesday in consultation with the officials of the Paris Base Ball Club. The Paris officials are anxious to employ Mr. Kahoe asimanager of the home team and he is anxious to come to Paris if they can afford to pay the salary that a player of his class commands.

Mr. Kahoe began his baseball career in Paris in 1894, when at the close of the season the Paris team deteated the Cincinnati Rads by a score of 13 to 2. In that memorable contest Lawrence did the twirling for the Bourbonites, while Kahoe gave him faultless sup-port behind the bat. Kahoe's work electrified the crowd, and since then he has had a warm place in the heart of every baseball fan in the Bourbon capital. Since 1894 he has played with the big league clubs. The Paris Club will make every effort to secure pledges for the required amount that it takes to secure Kahoo's signature to a contract. They are to let him know Surday. It would certainly mean much to the success of the Paris Club next season to have a man of Club next season to have a man of Kahoe's calibre at the head of the team.

War his been declared by the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington np-on the English sparrow, which, accord-ing to the department, "among birds ing to the department, "among birds is comparable to the rat among mammals." With this end in view, the department is circulating extensively a bulletin on how to destroy this "cun ning, destructive and filthy bird." Except in the destruction of weed-seed, there is nothing to be said in seed, there is nothing to be said in the sparrow's favor. On the other hand it destroys cherries, grapes, pears, peaches, buds, flowers, shrubs, vines, garden seed, young vegetables, especially peas and lettuce. In addition it usurps the nests and destroys the eggs of the robin, wren, mocking bird and other useful native specimens.

Read What the Cincinnati Papers Said of Billy:

FROM THE TIMES-STAR:

"Billy," a pleasing farce in three acts, was given at the Lyric Sunday night, as a sort of "filler in." Too bad that there isn't a week lying around somewhere that could be devoted to this happy skit. The action, all of which takes place on a New York-Havana liner, revolves about a set of false teeth and a love affair. The complications are so rapid and spontaneous that a laugh a minute was the result. Edgar Atchison-Ely did splendidly as the owner of the lost teeth; Jane Marbury was hewitchingly sweet and clever as the sister; while as a mathematical state of the second state of the lost teeth; Jane Marbury was hewitchingly sweet and clever as the sister; while as a mathematical state of the lost teeth. bury was bewitchingly sweet and clever as the sister; while, as a matter of course, Mrs. Stuart Robson made the role of "Mrs. Sloane" altogether pleasing. The other parts were well taken and a refreshing season of comedy was the result.

FROM THE CINCINNATI POST:

"Billy" dropped into town for one performance Sunday night at the Lyric, and constituted a delightful evening's entertainment. It is a a matter of regret that this genial farce did not make Cincinnati its a matter of regret that this genial farce did not make Cincinnati its abiding place for a longer term. It is written by George Cameron . the note of plume of Mrs. Sidney Drew, author of "Agnes," in which Nance O'Neal appeared for several seasons. Like all farces, it has for its basis a preposterous situation, and everything depends upon the manner in which the absurdities are worked out. One William Hargreave, a foot ball hero, has lost four teeth on a field of battle, and the vacancy is filled with artificial molars. The subject is a profound family secret, and he sails for Havana, with his sister, to become accustomed to his new acquisitions. On board are the girl he loves, her mother and his rival. He loses his teeth just after the boat sails, and cannot even pronounce the name of his lady love, Beatrice. There is much cuspid comedy and it is cleverly done both by author and cast. Edgar Atchison Ely takes the principal role, and does it effectively. He is surrounded by capable people. Jane Marbury, as Alice Hargreave, is excellent, and Mrs. Stuart Robson, as Mrs. Sloane, imparts a rare quality of comedy to the character. Marian Chapman is good to look upon, and she supplemented pulchritude by charm of manner. The other characters are well done. It is to be regretted that "Billy" was such a transient guest.

Indorsement for Cantrill.

In the House at Frankfort, Tuesday, Representative Russell offered a joint resolution indersing the amendment of tne anti-crust act of July 2, 1890, in-troduced in the National House of Representatives by Congressman J. Camp bell Cantrill, providing that the law be amended expressly to exempt organized labor and societies of growers or producers of agricultural products from its provisions. Copies of the petition passed are to be sent to every Senator and Representative from Ken-

Representative Russell spoke feelingly in behalf of his resolution, saying that the Cantrill amendment to the Sherman act would provide for organized labor and organizations of farmers and tobacco growers a weapon to use against trust aggrandizement. He moved the adoption of the resolution

Governors Hear Willson's Ideas.

Governors from thirty States of the Union met in the National Capital to discuss problems of State and of National interest Tuesday.

Governor Willson, of Kentucky, chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the conference was in the chair. In a brief introductory speech he referred to the first conference of State heads, invited in May, 1908, by President Roosevelt to meet in the White House.

Governor Willson decalred that in his opinion no better means of de-vising improved and uniform State Legislation could have been found than for the Chief Executives of the States to come together as they had and in a friendly way, with partisan feeling forgotten, talk over together the questions in which they were all interested.
